Men: Pray for Courage, Stand Up

spoken by Kalindi on June 30, 2008

I want to say this to the men, because it's how I really feel. And it's: I wish the men were not so goddamn afraid, constantly afraid. Afraid of me, afraid of their meditations, afraid of what might happen, afraid about their life, afraid they can't make any money – afraid, afraid, afraid, afraid, afraid, afraid, afraid.

You men have to start to pray for courage to stand up and be able to do whatever it is God needs done.

And pray to God, “Please Lord, give me the strength and the courage to do what it is that I need to do next.” And stand up and hold His Mission. And stand up so that I can hear and feel you all around me. Just up, up, up, up, up, up, up. So I never even have to feel myself holding this Mission on my own shoulders anymore.

Come to God. Let God in. And stop being afraid of every little thing. Always be ready to put one foot in front of the other, and depend upon God for your strength, and your courage, and your bravery. Live in your bravery.

You are not the same as women. You are men. You are the ones that go to war, because there is something in you that is powerful. And there is so much weakness.

And I know that in the transformation it is very hard with the breaking down of the ego, because you go through neediness, and weakness, and so many things like that, but that is not the same as just your strength. David Swanson never lost his strength, or his manlihood, or any of that, while his whole ego was just falling away and his whole being of illusion was going away. He never lost his strength as a man.

Now just stand up and step out of your ego. That's probably what needs to happen, is step out of your ego and there will be your strength in God. This Mission is not meant to be just run by women.

Please.
